

How do you feed a crowd?

KĀINGA ORA CUSTOMER RECIPE COMPETITION

Share with us your original go-to recipe for how you like to feed a crowd. Whether it's for a family barbecue, potluck meal or a festive dessert, we want to see it. Do you have a family recipe with cultural significance, or one that's been handed down through generations?

Share it with us via this form, include a photograph if you have one handy and have a chance to win our major prize, including getting your recipe published in our summer issue of Close to Home. Our readers will be able to enjoy your recipe ideas in time for Christmas. We'll also award major prizes for best starter, salad or side, and best dessert.

We'll be sharing some of our favourite contributions to our Facebook community throughout the month, so give it a follow to see these great recipes.

Terms and conditions

The competition is open from Wednesday 4 September through to 30 September 2024. All valid entries received by the deadline will be considered for judging. The entrant must currently reside in a Kāinga Ora home. Entries must answer all the criteria outlined in the entry form and must consent to Kāinga Ora sharing their submission, first name and city for the purposes of announcing and sharing their recipe on social media and Close to Home. Winners will be decided by 7 October 2024 by a Kāinga Ora representative and will be notified directly. All decisions regarding winners will be final. The competition is not open to employees of Kāinga Ora or members of their direct family. All entries and associated personal information will be destroyed following completion of the competition. Prizes may be subject to terms and conditions, which you agree to by entering the competition.
